

Family

As a father and grandfather, I know that children and their education and activities are very important. As a School Committee member, I have tried to ensure that the students from Arlington obtain a first-class education as I do my family.

